“WALK the WALL CHALLENGE”

Kumbhalgarh, Rajasthan

IT'S NOT A LONG WALK.
BUT IT IS TOUGH!

IF YOU ARE PHYSICALLY FIT WE CHALLENGE YOU TO WALK THE WALL.

The wall is 9.27 kms.
Second only to the Great Wall of China

These are formidable fortification walls of the Fort in Kumbhalgarh.

Kumbhalgarh is a historic Fort that is truly awesome. Named after Kumbha a great Rajput warrior, the Fort is the birthplace of Rana Pratap – an Indian hero. The Fort is strewn with 8th Century ruins of temples & cenotaphs.

The fort is situated in hilly tribal region of Rajasthan, surrounded by the Kumbhalgarh Wildlife Sanctuary, home to leopards, sloth bears & well known for its jungle fowls.

In this grand setting,
we flag you off...

In the trusted company of your guide.
The Walk looks easy to begin with, but soon
the steps begin to rise and fall dramatically!
Then, the Tough get going!!

It is a great experience walking through these remote & wild countryside.
There are no people here.
Only the birds and the trees.

We break your journey at three different points to provide you with some rest and serve you power foods & refreshments to rejuvenate your Walk.

If you cannot walk the entire Wall,
we still encourage you to at least walk a part of it – as much as is comfortable for an individual or a group.
School Children & Adults alike would find Walking the Wall a thrilling experience for the wealth of natural and cultural history it offers.

All your creature comforts are looked after at the Camp or Dera Kumbhalgarh, a tented accommodation 2 kilometers from the Fort.
